Purpose: The Home Language Survey (HLS):

- 1. Identifies a student whose home language is not English; and,
2. Identifies a student who will be tested on the skills of listening, speaking, reading, and writing in academic English for additional support.

Parents/Guardians/Family Members:

- The English proficiency test determines if your student needs a language support services program along with the regular education program.
➤ Your child is entitled to these language support services as a Civil Right.
➤ If your student qualifies for language services, you can opt out of the Language Service program offered by the school through the Annual Notification Letter.
➤ You cannot opt out of the annual English proficiency assessment since it provides teachers with information for a more personalized educational experience for your student.
